Zitat

„Was verbinde ich mit dem Institut Ranke-Heinemann? Sicherheit, einen zuverlässigen Ansprechpartner, weniger Stress in Organisationsdingen, Erfahrung, absolute Erreichbarkeit, Engagement und persönliche Nähe - alles in allem: die Chance auf eine tolle Zeit Down Under!

Ich kann nur jedem empfehlen, die Betreuung des IRH in Anspruch zu nehmen und von der Erfahrung der Mitarbeiter, vor allem hinsichtlich der Kommunikation mit der Universität vor Ort, zu profitieren.

Die Webinare bereiten einen bestens auf die Zeit im Ausland vor und wenn Fragen offen bleiben, dann hat man stets einen netten Ansprechpartner, der einem bei der Organisation hilft oder ein wenig Mut zuspricht. Also nicht lange zögern, hier gibt es keinen Haken! “

Raphael Schneider, Engineering Major, Friedrich-Alexander University, Germany

"I was placed in a large multidisciplinary international company and worked on a critical evaluation of the potential application of renewable energy to commercial property in Melbourne. The working climate was brilliant and I liked to have talks with people there. Also I could learn much about renewable energy from an engineering/architectural point of view. I got a deeper insight into the company and its competitors"

Sara Weaver, Conservation Major, University of Massachusetts, USA

"I worked for an ecological not for profit organisation whose task was to improve waterways in an urban environment. I created a Biodiversity Audit program proposal and took part in water testing and eco sourcing. I also helped out with some of the courses offered. Some of the major learning experiences included learning to be patient and go with the flow. Also learning to be flexible was another major learning experience. Learning to be more assertive and learning to take more initiative with the actual project assignment was another great learning experience."
